Citizens Important Part of Govt.

TAXPAYERS and citizens are still the important ingredients of government.

They can make or break political aspirants at the polls.

Those are the dual positions of the voter, the man who ultimately has the last word because he pays to be governed and served and he decides who will do the job for him.

The role of the Michigan citizen as a voter becomes important every two years on a statewide scale, but the role of the voter as a citizen is often obscured.

Some Republicans and Democrats would like to place the proposed income tax and a proposed sales tax increase directly in the voter's hands April 8.

If they succeed, the role of the citizen again assumes the cloak of the voter.

The decisions for which the voter elected legislators and administrators to make are then made by citizens themselves.

It has happened many times in Michigan's recent history: civil service in 1940, the original sales tax, also margarine and dozens of others.

All were sizzling hot issues before the legislature but neither party wanted to take the onus of placing them in the lawbooks.

Gov. Williams has proposed a state income tax.

Republicans in the legislature prefer a flat rate, perhaps two per cent, to his graduated income tax version, which, they claim would hit the middle-income groups hardest.

Democrats are committed to go along with Williams, realizing that many of their own supporters will be affected.

Republicans, in effect, proposed the income tax first, because it came from a report revenue researchers working for the legislative tax study committee.

Now they would like the voters to decide.

Vast changes can be wrought in the years.

It was in 1955 that Gov. Williams flatly opposed a state income tax and party leaders were embarrassed when it appeared the idea would be proposed.

One Democratic legislator said it would be the "first of all" taxes and then spent days denying he meant it as an endorsement of a levy on personal incomes.

Since shortly after he first took office, Williams has proposed a corporation profits tax. Republicans answered with a "business activities" tax.

Williams objected, but it became law. He charged that the tax was levied whether a corporation made any money or not. His tax, he said, would be based only on profits.

His plan now indicates Michigan will have both.

Joined with the income tax idea is a corporation profits tax of five mills, seven mills on utilities. Two other business taxes would be all but repealed but the business activities tax will remain.

Business and industry already have attacked the governor's program. They say that the extra burden of taxes will further damage Michigan's economic climate.

But both parties agree that the state will need a large new tax if it is to continue the services and expand some of them to cover a growing population.

The need is indicated by the $110,000,000 deficit.

"Our needs will never break us, but our wants certainly will," said Sen. Clyde Geerlings, Republican from Hope, in a talk to the Rotary Club of Detroit.

He thinks the state should raise rates to some of the people receiving benefit of state services. He suggests that there could be a

Greater Rise In Savings Locally

(Special to the Avalanche)

New York, Feb. 16 — Savings have climbed to a high level in Crawford County. On the basis of money in the bank, one of the important indicators of economic strength, local residents have advanced to new heights in the last two years.

The story is told in a biennial report just released by the Federal Reserve System. It gives bank deposit data for every county in the United States.

At the beginning of this fiscal year, it shows, money on deposit in Crawford County's savings and commercial banks reached $2,800,000. This consisted of time deposits (savings accounts) and demand deposits (checking accounts) of individuals, partnerships and corporations, and certain governmental and inter-bank deposits.

The savings total, amounting to $1,228,000 represents an increase of 15.9 percent over the $1,057,000 reported for the county by the Federal Reserve two years ago, when the previous survey was made.

The rise was greater than that attained in most parts of the East North Central States, where it averaged 12.5 percent. In the State of Michigan the increase was 12.4 percent.

Locally, as well as in most other parts of the country, the savings pattern of families has been a trend toward retrenchment. By no means did they do this drastically. They just deferred some of their spending, especially for items involving big outlays and installment debt. The rest they put into savings, investments and the retirement of old obligations.

According to the President's Council of Economic Advisors, Americans are currently saving at the enormous rate of $20 billion a year. For every dollar they owe they have assets worth more than $4 available.

The Federal Reserve concluded, after a recent study, that three out of four families have debt at all or owe less than $500, exclusive of mortgage and business debt.

The general public, as a result, now has an enormous reservoir of funds at its disposal. The potential is present for a big buying spree when the people decide the time is ripe.

modest fee for use of state parks. His questions the wisdom of state college and university tuition rates, pointing out that students pay some $250 per year, while it costs the taxpayer about $1,000 per year per student.

Sen. Geerlings agrees that the Michigan citizen is the one who should set the policy for state services, how extensive the services shall be, how they shall be financed.

Citizens' letters to legislators plead for economy.

Administrators say they have trimmed operations as far as possible and claim waste is at a minimum. Legislators charge that waste is widespread in state government.

The emergency, officials say, results in part from the fact that about one-third of the state's revenues are earmarked and placed beyond the control of the legislature.

Restricted funds include gas and weight taxes for highway construction, the three cents of the sales tax for schools and parts of the tax and profit on liquor.

As the crisis reached a breaking point, the treasury had $99,000,000 but no one could touch a cent. The legislature had to act. The crisis reached a breaking point, the treasury had $99,000,000 but no one could touch a cent. The legislature had to act.

Observers expect the 1959 legislative session to last until July. If it does, it will be one of the longest in recent history. If needed decisions are made, it will be one of the most decisive.

PONTIAC NAMED CAR OF THE YEAR

"Pontiac with wide-track wheels is the best combination of ride... handling... performance and styling of any '59 car"

—The Editors of Motor Trend Magazine

In making its annual automotive award, the staff of Motor Trend Magazine, leading automotive publication, tests and evaluates all new cars. Here are quotations from the April 1959 issue:

"The stability of the 1959 Pontiac is the outstanding automotive advance of the year. Everyone considering a new car should experience it."

"It's the best balanced passenger car in America. We firmly believe that in moving the wheels farther apart, to develop the widest stance of any American car, Pontiac has created an entirely new sense of balance and handling security."

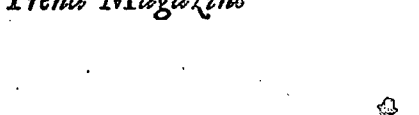

"Pontiac's lines are clean, simple and beautiful. It has a fleet look, a trim appearance. The wide wheel design contributes greatly to its over-all integrated styling. Any comparison with narrower track cars readily shows the difference."

"For the economy-minded, an efficient new engine. The new 420E Tempest economy engine offers remarkable performance along with exceptionally high mileage while operating on regular grade gasoline."

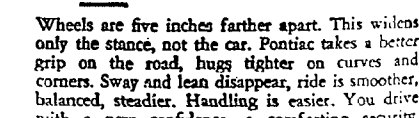

"Pontiac is again tops in performance, based on our extensive road testing. Acceleration is outstanding, yet the engine is unusually quiet and smooth."

Your nearest Pontiac dealer will be glad to let you road-test this award-winning automobile on your own. You'll see why it's the year's most talked-about car!

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Wheels are five inches wider apart. This widens only the stance, not the car. Pontiac takes a better grip on the road, hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean disappear, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier. Handling is easier. You drive with a new confidence, a comforting security. Pontiac gives you roadability no "narrow stance" car can offer.

FREE! If you would like a reprint of the complete, illustrated article with all the tests and evaluations on which Motor Trend judges Pontiac "Car of the Year"—see your Pontiac dealer or simply send your name and address on a postcard to Pontiac Motor Division, Department 10, Pontiac, Michigan.

Job Opportunities In Our Town . . .

"For lack of a nail, the shoe was lost," the saying goes. And because the shoe was lost, the horse was lost . . . and the soldier was lost and eventually, the story goes, the war was lost.

Nails and job opportunities are not very closely related but this story of the nail is used to illustrate a point. The saying in many communities could well be:

"For lack of a job opportunity, a potential leader was lost."

All of us have seen or heard of outstanding young men and women leaving a community for opportunities elsewhere because there weren't any job opportunities in their own town.

In many cases, these young people have gone on to become leaders in the communities where they did find opportunity and their talents and abilities—nourished in their home town — are used to help another town.

This is fine for the town that gained in the deal but how about the one that lost a potential leader for lack of job opportunities?

Scores of Michigan communities face this problem today and it will become even more acute in the early 1960's as children born during and after World War II—the so-called "war babies"—enter the job market.

Will our town offer the opportunities these young men and women are looking for? Or will they seek opportunity elsewhere?

There won't be any need for our youth to look elsewhere for opportunity if we all plan and work together to create job opportunities for these young people.

There are many ways to accomplish this goal but one of the best we know of is to encourage and help the industry we now have to expand locally when demand for their product increases.

At the same time, all of us should tell others about the advantages our town offers.

But—and now we go back to that nail—lack of enthusiasm on the part of anyone can result in loss of job opportunities . . . loss of our citizens of tomorrow.

The attitude of everyone toward our present industry and prospects that may consider our town as a possible site for a new industry can be our biggest asset or liability.

Let's all do everything in our power to create a friendly attitude in our town.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

February 27, 1936

Michigan's recent blizzards, the most severe in the history of modern transportation, meant a $242,642 bill to the state highway department.

A compilation announced by State Highway Commissioner Murray VanWagoner estimated snow-removal expenditures on the trunkline system at that amount for the first two weeks of February. This was the period in which Michigan experienced three successive blizzards which brought temperatures down to 25 below, 18 inches of snow on the level, and drifts as high as 15 to 20 feet.

Expenditures in Crawford County for the month of February amounted to $1,536.20 as compared to $441 for the corresponding month of 1935.

CCC enrollees crews under the supervision of the Michigan Emergency Conservation Work officials are securing information on lake depths and winter fishing for the Fish division of the Department of Conservation.

ShuPac, K. P. Jones and West Twink lakes have already been mapped and sounded. ShuPac, 107 acres in area, was found to have a maximum depth of 98 1/2 feet, refuting native fables which had estimated the depth as much as 250 feet.

For seven Sundays, beginning January 12th, Kirby Snow Trains have brought large crowds to Grayling, and each time the conditions for winter sports were excellent, even right up to last Sunday.

And on Monday the thaw came and now what was once a field of snow and ice is a flooded area. It almost looks as if the weatherman had held off purposefully in favor of Grayling's winter sports.

A grand finish was written to Grayling High School's 1935-36 cage season Friday night, as the Northern Lights completely buried West Branch High under an avalanche of points. The Orioles fought hard to stave off the attack of the more experienced team, but at the close of the game they were on the short end of a 44-14 score.

Grayling high's reserves also added a game to their win column by nocking out the West Branch seconds 20-16. J. H. Peterson accounted for ten of Grayling's twenty points.

The best is none too good for our youth to hear, and the fathers of Grayling too may profit by hearing Coach Charles Bachman of M. S. C. at the annual father and son banquet here next Monday night.

Michigan's plans for the propagation and planting of Montana grayling from the Wolf Lake hatchery near Kalamazoo this year are all off. A flock of merganser ducks and gulls recently visited the pond containing the grayling and devoured every fish. The incident is almost without precedent in hatchery records according to Fred A. Westernman, chief of fisheries operations at Lansing.

"We have always maintained a guard against predators at hatchery and rearing stations, and usually get by with relatively minor losses, but the massed attack of merganser ducks and gulls at Wolf Lake and with such serious consequences, has never occurred before."

The Department of Conservation still has a quantity of fingerling Montana grayling at the Wolf Lake hatchery and will keep this supply for later use in propagation efforts.

Morning-Chevy panel hustles over causeway to St. Petersburg.

Chevy panel steps lively in Florida...runs day and night, delivers 19.3 miles per gallon!

This '59 Chevy panel is on the go, morning, noon and night; it covers as much as 587 miles a day . . . runs so constantly that its engine never cools off completely. Yet Mr. Clark Farber, the Tampa Tribune's circulation manager, reports that the truck is delivering 19.3 miles per gallon!

This year, the light-, medium- and heavy-duty trucks of the 1959 Chevrolet Task-Force fleet are out to whip anything that comes their way—and they've got what it takes to do it!

Take the panel pictured above, for example. Powered by the '59 Thriftmaster 6 with new economy-contoured camshaft, it's building a sensational economy record, despite the sizzling pace of its work. That's typical of the way Cheviacs of all sizes are turning-to on the most challenging jobs in America. The way they're made, with tough-built truck components, they make the hardest hauls look easy! If you have a job that puts a truck on its mettle, see your Chevrolet dealer!

THE WORLD OUTDOORS
By Mike Bennett

IN THE amber glow of many a campfire hot sparks have flown from the old argument about which is the most fun and the most productive—live bait angling or fishing with artificial lures.

It is an argument that probably is almost as old as man himself. No one knows exactly where it was along man's march to civilization that he discovered he didn't have to rely on the accuracy of his spear or the quickness of his hand to fetch a tasty fish from a rippling stream. No doubt, man used live bait first, when some progressive-minded citizen came up with the idea of using a small fish to catch a bigger one. Then one day, a fellow who had no little fish on hand tried a bright trinket as a lure, latched on to a lunker and artificial bait fishing was born.

Realizing full well that we can get an argument here, too, we report that scientists have conducted tests and come up with the statement that artificial lures are twice as effective as live bait fishing.

There can be no argument about the fact that an angler casting artificial lures can cover a much greater territory than a live bait fisherman. The live bait angler's success depends on movement by the fish—or the angler's ability to locate the fish and get the bait down where he will take it.

Personally, we think the success of either method depends to a great extent upon the ability of the individual angler. Being addicted to both methods of fishing, the author at various times has been on both sides of the fence: dunking minnows to no avail while plus catches were landing the boat on every side; and flipping artificials fruitlessly while minnow dunkers were catching easy limits.

Frederic News

BY Mrs. Harry Horton

Mrs. Wixson of Cheboygan is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Max Tobin.

Dean Tobin and family spent the weekend with his parents.

Earl Brown of Owosso, who has a summer home here had a heart attack and was taken to Mercy Hospital last Tuesday morning.

The way snow is banked up here looks like we will have snow all spring.

Lots of items on the special tables at Olson's REEERLY BIG SALE!

Mrs. Harry Horton received a letter from her niece, Mrs. Irene Goodno of Concord, N.H., saying they had a snow storm and over 2,000 people came to bring their children to play in it. It was very rare in Concord. Those folks should visit Frederic for details on more snow than they know what to do with.

Mrs. and Mrs. Dale Allen and daughter, Ronda of Newaygo spent some time at their parents home with Mrs. Allen's mother, Mrs. Dora Thompson of Atlanta, Mich.

The Mom's Club regular meeting was well attended on Thursday evening. Business meeting and social hour. Games were played and a delicious lunch served by the committee. Mrs. Ray Murphy won the door prize.

The past Sunday was the beginning of Youth Week in our church. The Goodfellowship (adult) group and Young People's group held a potluck supper and social hour in the Town Hall on Monday evening. The Young People will be taking part in several activities through the week. Thursday night at Winter Sports Bank, Grayling, and can't wait to party at the school on Saturday evening. The young people of the community are invited.

Friends of Frederic were sorry to hear of the passing of Mrs. Max Tobin's father, William Wixson in Cheboygan on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Wixson were residents here for many years. Some from 1925 and later. Funeral on Wednesday afternoon.

Our last home basketball game of the season will be with our rival team of Merritt High School this Friday evening. Let's all turn out and root for our boys.

The Underground Forest all-stars are on the right road of their winning streak again with 23 wins out of 24 by turning back the Cheboygan Hawks Saturday evening, Feb. 21st, to a tune of 70 to 63 in front of a small turnout at the Frederic gym. This team is showing fine sportsmanship in helping the girls get their new jackets and the benefit games for the March of Dimes.

It sure shows these boys are willing to lend a helping hand for any good cause and their fine sportsmanship with it. The only thing that is very slim is the cheers that this fine team is not getting at the games for their fine sportsmanship they are showing in their little town. At the next home game, let's have a few cheers for the best team in these parts.

Mrs. Raymond Brown was called to Defiance, Ohio, after receiving word Thursday, that her aunt had passed away. She left Thursday night.

Mrs. Carol Sims and daughters have moved into a trailer at Brown's Cabins.

Brownie Scout News
A Valentine party was enjoyed with 18 Brownies and five visitors present. Our party opened with "Let Mr. Call You Sweetheart". Roll call was then answered with riddles.

Prayer song, "Into Our Heart". The 23rd Psalm was then recited by all reverently.

A party song, "The More We Get Together".

Our Grandmother Book was next enjoyed by all. This book is really nice and we are proud to present it to Mrs. Flora Barber, who was grandmother of Frederic.

Bear Lake News

BY M. D.

Another 12 inches of snow came last night and still snowing. What a winter!

Very few people around. The Spencers and Burrs from Ionia, and Evert Worthington from Toledo seemed to be the only ones up for the weekend.

Bill Dyer's daughter and her family from Jackson spent the weekend with him.

Sixteen of us enjoyed an oyster and lobster supper here last night. Still doing a little rabbit hunting. Only got four for the gang this weekend.

Last weeks visitors at the Sox Hendricks were their son, Howard Irwin and family, Bud Bump and two daughters and Ed Wiloba all from Kalamazoo.

Nick Douglas came home for the weekend bringing two more cousins. Lu is wondering when he is going to run out of cousins.

Bill Ray from Orionville spent the weekend with us. The fox got away last Thursday and we have not seen him since.

We would like to have the girls who still have nuts to take either the nuts or the money for them to their den mother. The girls had to pick five badges that they would like to work on. Our president led us in our laws and promise, then dismissed with taps.

Letters To The Editor

OPPORTUNITY

In this great commonwealth known as "Water Wonderland" I know that great changes have been made in the last ten years. The most important achievement was the building of the Straits of Mackinac Bridge, linking this great state of Michigan together. Great strides have been made in developing new super-highways. Highways that will extend from southern Michigan to the most northern part of our state. Thousands of people from all over the world have been attracted to see this bridge. This great accomplishment at one time was considered a dream. But a beautiful dream has become a reality.

In the last ten years thousands of people have settled in the northern part of the state, and this movement will increase more and more each year. Pensioners are leaving the big cities to find relief in smaller towns in the northern part of the state. Smaller homes and cheaper taxes is a must.

Hundreds of small businesses have sprung up all over the northern part of Michigan, plus the tourists having a year around playground to enjoy. This will create thousands of part time jobs for pensioners needing work. Great opportunities for young and old people are waiting untouched. For people with the ability to see forward and take advantage of making a success in life. The remedy is simple and clear. Ambition combined with honest work will make any man's desire come true.

Good highways and fast transportation is playing a big part in reducing the cost of merchandise. New businesses being competitive is reducing the cost of living, and the economy is growing and will continue. There's no other way for it to go.

New schools are being erected to take care of the increasing population. Hospitals are expanding to meet the demands. Churches of all denominations are found throughout the northern part of the state.

Summing up the true facts that exist in this wonderful land of opportunity.

A NURSE IN THE HOSPITAL

For the last three weeks I have had an opportunity to be on the receiving end of nursing care. While no one enjoys being away from home and in a hospital, we of Grayling should get down on our knees and thank God for having a hospital in Grayling with one of the most efficient staffs in the state of Michigan. I'm sure it is the only hospital with a home atmosphere, with real Christian Sisters of Mercy on hand, not just eight but twenty-four hours a day, with spiritual help for all denominations, and with the kindest doctors. Dr. Clippert, who has taken care of me and mine for twenty-nine years, has been more than a doctor. He is one of the finest men in this town, and has been a real friend to me and my family.

Many nurses have reached into many of our homes in the last twenty-nine years, meeting your father, mother, brother or sister or grand children, whom we have tried to take care of the very best we knew how. Maybe sometimes we have appeared too professional and strict, but always your sick ones come first. Now, while I've been laid up, the cards, gifts and flowers I have received from many of you have made me realize more than ever that maybe we as nurses have eased a little suffering along the years, and as long as I live I hope I can continue to do so. Thank you all. Elsie Larson
